Dragonfly Energy's CEO Dr. Denis Phares Presented on Need for Safe, Affordable Energy Storage at TEDXReno

RENO, NEVADA – (July 27, 2022) – Dragonfly Energy Corp. ("Dragonfly"), a leader in energy storage and producer of deep cycle lithium-ion storage batteries, today announced the posting on its website of its CEO, Dr. Denis Phares' presentation recently given at TEDxReno. Dragonfly's integrated lithium-ion products, marketed under its Dragonfly and Battle Born BatteriesTM brands, replace large and environmentally toxic lead-acid batteries and provide safe, efficient, and affordable energy storage solutions for a clean, renewable future.

During the event, Dr Phares spoke about the increasing need for energy storage and role that the development and commercialization of Dragonfly's revolutionary All-Solid-State-Battery technology is poised to play in addressing these market challenges.

"Yes, we have a story to tell about revolutionizing the manufacturing of green energy storage systems," Phares said. "We're looking to change the narrative. Many people think getting an electric vehicle will solve climate change, and it's a step, but there's so much more to be done. If we can begin to have an honest conversation about what's next, I believe we'll start to see real progress."
