- Dragonfly intends to use the proceeds from the transaction to accelerate the market penetration of its existing business and commercialize its proprietary and patented All-Solid-State-Battery technology that will dramatically reduce reliance on the power grid.

RENO, NEVADA (May 16, 2022) — Dragonfly Energy Corp. ("Dragonfly" or the "Company"), a leader in energy storage and producer of deep cycle lithium-ion storage batteries, and Chardan NexTech Acquisition 2 Corp. ("CNTQ") (Nasdaq: CNTQ), a publicly traded special purpose acquisition company, today announced a definitive agreement for a business combination that will result in Dragonfly becoming a publicly listed company. Upon closing of the transaction, the combined company will be renamed Dragonfly Energy and is expected to be listed on the Nasdaq under the new ticker symbol "DFLI."

Creating a New Standard for Environmentally Impactful Energy Storage

Dragonfly has created state-of-the-art lithium-ion batteries equipped with a proprietary battery management system that are currently used in recreational vehicles ("RVs"), marine vessels, material handling, and off-grid residences and solar applications. Dragonfly's integrated lithium-ion products replace large and environmentally toxic lead-acid batteries and provide safe, efficient, and affordable energy storage solutions for a clean, renewable future.

Sold direct-to-consumers under the Battle Born Batteries™ brand and to original equipment manufacturers ("OEMs"), such as Keystone RV, a subsidiary of Thor Industries (NYSE: THO), and Midwest Automotive, a subsidiary of REV Group (NYSE: REVG), under the Dragonfly Energy™ brand, Dragonfly generated $78 million of revenue and nearly $9 million of adjusted EBITDA in 2021, both representing an 80+% CAGR since 2018. As Dragonfly penetrates new and existing markets, the Company anticipates continued growth with 2022 and 2023 revenue forecasts of $115 million and $255 million, respectively, and 2022 and 2023 adjusted EBITDA forecasts of $12 million and $41 million, respectively. CNTQ believes that an investment in Dragonfly presents a compelling opportunity at a 32% discount to its peers' 2023 revenue multiples.

Dragonfly intends to use a portion of the proceeds raised from this transaction to accelerate the development and commercialization of its revolutionary All-Solid-State-Battery technology. All-Solid-State-Batteries are non-flammable and are designed to allow for efficient, distributed energy storage that enables renewables to be cost competitive with fossil fuels while further stabilizing the power grid.

Dragonfly Co-Founder, Chairman & Chief Executive Officer, Dr. Denis Phares, and the current management team are expected to continue to lead the combined company.

Dr. Phares said: “CNTQ shares our vision for providing the safe and cost-effective distributed storage solution required for our renewable energy future and supports our unique customer-centric approach to technology and innovation. This transaction will help us grow our core business and facilitate the development and large-scale deployment of our All-Solid-State-Battery technology.”

Jonas Grossman, Chief Executive Officer and Director of CNTQ, added, “As an innovator in the battery space, Dragonfly can transform distributed energy storage with the growth and commercialization of its All-Solid-State-Battery technology. We are excited to support the team as they become a public company.”

Transaction Overview

The business combination values Dragonfly at an implied $500.1 million pro forma enterprise value. Estimated cash proceeds to the combined company are expected to consist of CNTQ’s approximately $128 million of cash in trust (assuming no redemptions) and an additional $230 million consisting of $75 million senior secured term loan (used in part to refinance approximately $45 million of outstanding Dragonfly indebtedness), a $5 million equity investment at $10.00 per share from CNTQ’s Sponsor, Chardan NexTech Investments 2 LLC, and a $150 million Chardan Equity Facility (ChEF™) from Chardan, an affiliate of CNTQ’s sponsor.

The transaction includes an earn-out provision for up to an additional 40 million shares as follows: 15 million issued if both 2023 audited Revenue and Operating Income reach $250 million and $35 million, respectively; 12.5 million issued at a price target of $22.50 by December 31, 2026; 12.5 million issued at a price target of $32.50 by December 31, 2028. All Dragonfly stockholders will roll 100% of their equity holdings into the new combined company.

A commitment letter and term sheet have been agreed in connection with the $75 million term loan and $150 million equity facility, respectively. The availability of these facilities is subject to the negotiation and execution of related definitive documentation, customary funding conditions and closing of the business combination.

The Boards of Directors of each of Dragonfly and CNTQ have unanimously approved the transaction, the Board of Directors of CNTQ has unanimously recommended to CNTQ stockholders the approval of the transaction, and the requisite stockholders of Dragonfly have approved the transaction. The transaction will require the approval of the stockholders of CNTQ, and is subject to satisfaction or waiver of the conditions stated in the merger agreement and other customary closing conditions, including the receipt of certain regulatory approvals. The transaction is currently expected to close in the second half of 2022.

Additional information about the proposed transaction, including a copy of the merger agreement and investor presentation, will be provided in a Current Report on Form 8-K to be filed by CNTQ with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and will be available on the Dragonfly investor relations page at www.dragonflyenergy.com/investors and at www.sec.gov. More information about the proposed transaction will also be described in CNTQ's proxy statement/prospectus relation to the business combination, which it will file with the SEC.

Forward-Looking Statements

This Presentation contains certain "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the United States Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995, Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act") and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, including certain financial forecasts and projections. All statements other than statements of historical fact contained in this Presentation, including statements as to the transactions contemplated by the business combination and related agreements, future results of operations and financial position, revenue and other metrics, planned products and services, business strategy and plans, objectives of management for future operations of Dragonfly, market size and growth opportunities, competitive position and technological and market trends, are forward-looking statements. Some of these forward-looking statements can be identified by the use of forward-looking words, including "may," "should," "expect," "intend," "will," "estimate," "anticipate," "believe," "predict," "plan," "targets," "projects," "could," "would," "continue," "forecast" or the negatives of these terms or variations of them or similar expressions. All forward-looking statements are subject to risks, uncertainties, and other factors (some of which are beyond the control of Dragonfly or CNTQ) which could cause actual results to differ materially from those expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements.

All forward-looking statements are based upon estimates, forecasts and assumptions that, while considered reasonable by CNTQ and its management, and Dragonfly and its management, as the case may be, are inherently uncertain and many factors may cause the actual results to differ materially from current expectations which include, but are not limited to: 1) the occurrence of any event, change or other circumstances that could give rise to the termination of the definitive merger agreement with respect to the business combination; 2) the outcome of any legal proceedings that may be instituted against Dragonfly, CNTQ, the combined company or others following the announcement of the business combination and the transactions contemplated thereby; 3) the inability to complete the business combination due to the failure to obtain approval of the stockholders of CNTQ or Dragonfly, or to satisfy other conditions to closing the business combination; 4) changes to the proposed structure of the business combination that may be required or appropriate as a result of applicable laws or regulations or as a condition to obtaining regulatory approval of the business combination; 5) the ability to meet Nasdaq's listing standards following the consummation of the business combination; 6) the risk that the business combination disrupts current plans and operations of Dragonfly as a result of the announcement and consummation of the business combination; 7) the inability to recognize the anticipated benefits of the business combination; 8) ability of Dragonfly to successfully increase market penetration into its target markets; 9) the addressable markets that Dragonfly intends to target do not grow as expected; 10) the loss of any key executives; 11) the loss of any relationships with key suppliers including suppliers in China; 12) the loss of any relationships with key customers; 13) the inability to protect Dragonfly's patents and other intellectual property; 14) the failure to successfully optimize solid state cells or to produce commercially viable solid state cells in a timely manner or at all, or to scale to mass production; 15) costs related to the business combination; 16) changes in applicable laws or regulations; 17) the possibility that Dragonfly or the combined company may be adversely affected by other economic, business and/or competitive factors; 18) Dragonfly's estimates of its growth and projected financial results for 2022 and 2023 and meeting or satisfying the underlying assumptions with respect thereto; 19) the risk that the business combination may not be completed in a timely manner or at all, which may adversely affect the price of CNTQ's securities; 20) the risk that the transaction may not be completed by CNTQ's business combination deadline (as may be extended pursuant to CNTQ's governing documents); 21) the impact of the novel coronavirus disease pandemic, including any mutations or variants thereof, and its effect on business and financial conditions; 22) inability to complete the PIPE investment, the term loan and equity line (ChEF) in connection with the business combination; and 23) other risks and uncertainties set forth in the sections entitled "Risk Factors" and "Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements" in CNTQ's Form S-1 (File Nos. 333-252449 and 333-253016), Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2021 and registration statement on Form S-4 with the SEC, which will include a document that serves as a prospectus and proxy statement of CNTQ, referred to as a proxy statement/prospectus and other documents filed by CNTQ from time to time with the SEC. These filings identify and address other important risks and uncertainties that could cause actual events and results to differ materially from those contained in the forward-looking statements. Nothing in this Presentation should be regarded as a representation by any person that the forward-looking statements set forth herein will be achieved or that any of the contemplated results of such forward looking statements will be achieved. You should not place undue reliance on forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date they are made. Neither CNTQ or Dragonfly gives any assurance that either CNTQ or Dragonfly or the combined company will achieve its expected results. Neither CNTQ nor Dragonfly undertakes any duty to update these forward-looking statements, except as otherwise required by law. For additional information, see "Risk Considerations" in the investor presentation, which will be provided in a Current Report on Form 8-K to be filed by CNTQ with the SEC and available at www.sec.gov.

Use of Projections

This Presentation may contain financial forecasts of Dragonfly. Neither Dragonfly's independent auditors, nor the independent registered public accounting firm of CNTQ, audited, reviewed, compiled or performed any procedures with respect to the projections for the purpose of their inclusion in this Presentation, and accordingly, neither of them expressed an opinion or provided any other form of assurance with respect thereto for the purpose of this Presentation. These projections are forward-looking statements and should not be relied upon as being necessarily indicative of future results. The projected financial information contained in this Presentation constitutes forward-looking information. The assumptions and estimates underlying such projected financial information are inherently uncertain and are subject to a wide variety of significant business, economic, competitive and other risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in the prospective financial information. See "Forward-Looking Statements" above. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that the prospective results are indicative of future performance of Dragonfly or that actual results will not differ materially from the results presented in the prospective financial information contained in this Presentation. Actual results may differ materially from the results contemplated by the projected financial information contained in this Presentation. The inclusion of such information in this Presentation should not be regarded as a representation by any person that the results reflected in such projections will be achieved.

Financial Information; Non-GAAP Measures

Certain financial information and data contained in this Presentation is unaudited and may not conform to Regulation S-X. Such information and data may not be included in, may be adjusted in or may be presented differently in the registration statement to be filed relating to the proposed Transaction and the proxy statement/prospectus contained therein.

This Presentation also includes certain financial measures not presented in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP") including, but not limited to, Adjusted EBITDA. These non-GAAP financial measures, and other measures that are calculated using these non-GAAP measures, are not measures of financial performance in accordance with GAAP and may exclude items that are significant in understanding and assessing the Company's financial results. Therefore, these measures should not be considered in isolation or as an alternative to net income, cash flows from operations or other measures of profitability, liquidity or performance under GAAP. You should be aware that the Company's presentation of these measures may not be comparable to similarly-titled measures used by other companies. The Company believes these non-GAAP measures of financial results provide useful information to management and investors regarding certain financial and business trends relating to the Company's financial condition and results of operations. CNTQ and the Company believe that the use of these non-GAAP financial measures provides an additional tool for investors to use in evaluating ongoing operating results and trends and in comparing the Company's financial measures with other similar companies, many of which present similar non-GAAP financial measures to investors. These non-GAAP financial measures are subject to inherent limitations as they reflect the exercise of judgments by management about which expense and income are excluded or included in determining these non-GAAP financial measures.

This Presentation may also include certain projections of non-GAAP financial measures. Due to the high variability and difficulty in making accurate forecasts and projections of some of the information excluded from these projected measures, together with some of the excluded information not being ascertainable or accessible, the Company is unable to quantify certain amounts that would be required to be included in the most directly comparable GAAP financial measures without unreasonable effort. Consequently, no reconciliation of the forward-looking non-GAAP financial measures is included.

The use or display of third parties' trademarks, service marks, trade names or products in this Presentation is not intended to, and does not imply, a relationship with Dragonfly or CNTQ, or an endorsement or sponsorship by or of Dragonfly or CNTQ. This information involves many assumptions and limitations; therefore, there can be no guarantee as to the accuracy or reliability of such assumptions and you are cautioned not to give undue weight to this information. Further, no representation is made as to the reasonableness of the assumptions made within or the accuracy or completeness of any projections or any other information contained herein. Any data on past performance or modeling contained herein are not an indication as to future performance. None of Dragonfly, CNTQ or their respective affiliates, officers, directors, employees, representatives or advisors has independently verified the accuracy or completeness of any such third-party information. Similarly, other third-party survey data and research reports commissioned by the Company or CNTQ, while believed by to be reliable, are based on limited sample sizes and have not been independently verified by the Company or CNTQ. In addition, projections, assumptions, estimates, goals, targets, plans and trends of the future performance of the industry in which Dragonfly operates, and its future performance, are necessarily subject to uncertainty and risk due to a variety of factors, including those described above. These and other factors could cause results to differ materially from those expressed in the estimates made by independent parties and by Dragonfly and CNTQ.

This Presentation relates to a proposed transaction between CNTQ and Dragonfly. Financial Highlights

Financial Model Assumptions (1/2)

Financial Projections

Included in this presentation are the Company's estimates for the fiscal years 2022 and 2023 (the "Financial Projections"), based on information known as of the date of this presentation. These projections were prepared by the Company's management as part of its long-range planning process and to provide current and potential investors the Company's expectations of projected financial performance for their use in evaluating the transaction described in this presentation.

The underlying assumptions on which the Financial Projections are based require significant judgment. As a result, there can be no assurance that the Financial Projections will be an accurate prediction of future results. Key estimates and assumptions underlying the Financial Projections include:

- Revenue growth:
 - Overall projected increase in revenue and unit sales in both fiscal 2022 and 2023 is based on projected OEM and DTC sales increases;
 - OEM revenue is expected to grow primarily based on increasing sales to RV OEM customers with whom the Company has existing relationships and reflecting (i) increased OEM purchases in anticipation of increased end customer demand for lithium-ion batteries as original equipment; (ii) an increase in the number of RV models where the respective OEMs design in the Company's batteries as a 'standard' rather than an 'optional' feature; and (iii) growth in aftermarket sales through the various OEM dealer networks where the Company's products are featured (in some cases exclusively) and stocked for after-market RV service and lead-acid replacement;
 - DTC revenue growth is primarily based on (i) increased penetration within existing markets in line with the trend of lithium-ion batteries increasingly replacing lead acid batteries; (ii) increased sales and marketing investments targeting new adjacent markets; and (iii) the introduction of new lithium-ion battery products; and
 - DTC revenue growth is also expected to benefit from increased accessory sales as (i) the Company further develops its full-system design expertise and product offerings and (ii) customers increasingly demand more sophisticated systems, rather than simple drop-in replacement (in each case, enabling the Company to sell the additional components needed for a full storage solution).
- Gross Margin: expected to remain relatively stable as fixed cost absorption increases with higher revenue, and manufacturing efficiencies (including additional automation efforts) help to lower overall production costs, somewhat offset by an increase in lower margin OEM sales and third-party sourced accessory sales.
- Gross Profit: expected to increase in line with increased sales and benefits from manufacturing efficiencies and platform scale.
- Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA Margin: each expected to increase in line with increased revenue and scale, somewhat offset by higher operating expenses across the major expense categories.
- Manufacturing efficiencies: to improve production efficiency, the Company intends to continue to introduce additional automation functions into its manufacturing and assembly processes.
- Manufacturing facility: the Company's 99,000 square foot production facility (occupied since mid-2021) currently houses two production lines with plans to introduce an additional production line over the next 12 months to meet expected increases in unit demand.
- Cell supply: the Company has opted to purchase its lithium-ion battery cells from two carefully selected cell manufacturers in China. Doing so, to date, has enabled the Company to manage inventory and lead-times in anticipation of future needs and offset potential cell manufacturer cost increases with volume-based purchase discounts. An inability to timely and cost effectively source cell supplies could adversely impact the Company's revenue and margins.
- Solid state technology: over the last decade, the Company has made significant investments to develop its solid state battery technology and position the Company to manufacture and market its own solid state lithium-ion batteries. The Financial Projections for fiscal years 2022 and 2023 reflect related investments intended to support (i) continued optimization of the Company's solid state chemistry and (ii) construction of an initial pilot production manufacturing line. The Financial Projections do not include any contribution from solid state battery sales, with these future sales subject to successful related technology development and production process advancement efforts. At this time, it is impracticable to provide a meaningful estimate of potential solid state battery sales. However, a significant element of the potential transaction consideration consists of up to 25 million Earnout Shares payable only if related trading price targets of $22.50 prior to December 31, 2026 and/or $32.50 prior to December 31, 2028 are met (in addition to 15 million Earnout Shares issuable upon the Company meeting certain revenue or income thresholds for fiscal year 2023). We believe that meeting these trading price targets is unlikely to occur unless the Company successfully develops its solid state technology and solid state battery sales prospects.

CONFIL

The Company believes that its operating history provides a reasonable basis for the estimates and assumptions underlying the Financial Projections. Changes in these estimates or assumptions, including assumptions regarding key customer and supplier relationships, new product offerings, expansion into adjacent markets and/or the ability to implement planned automated manufacturing processes and expand production capacity could materially affect our Financial Projections.

As of the date of this presentation, the Financial Projections contained herein continue to represent management's expectations regarding the Company's expected future financial performance, solid state technology development efforts and the other events described above.

Risk Considerations (1/5)

The risks presented below are certain of the general risks related to the business of the Company and the business combination, and such list is not exhaustive. You should carefully consider these risks and uncertainties, and should carry out your own diligence and consult with your own financial, tax and legal advisors concerning the risks and suitability of an investment in this offering before making an investment decision. The risks presented below are qualified in their entirety by disclosures contained in future documents filed or furnished by CNTQ with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"), including the documents filed or furnished in connection with the proposed transactions between the Company and CNTQ. The risks presented in such filings will be consistent with those that would be required for a public company in their SEC filings, including with respect to the business and securities of the Company and CNTQ and the proposed transactions between the Company and CNTQ, and may differ significantly from, and be more extensive than, those presented below.

Unless the context otherwise requires, all references below to the "Company," "Dragonfly," "we," "us" or "our" refer to the business of Dragonfly Energy Corp. prior to the consummation of the Transaction, and New Dragonfly and its subsidiaries, including Dragonfly Energy Corp., following the consummation of the Transaction.

Risks Related to Dragonfly's Business and New Dragonfly Following the Business Combination

Risks Related to Dragonfly's Existing Lithium-Ion Battery Operations

- Our business and future growth depends on the needs and success of our customers.
- We may not be able to engage target customers successfully and to convert these customers into meaningful orders in the future.
- We operate in a competitive industry. We expect that the level of competition will increase and the nature of our competitors will change as we develop new LFP battery products for, and enter into, new markets, and as the competitive landscape evolves. These competitive and other factors could result in lost potential sales and lower average selling prices and profitability for our products.
- We may not succeed in our medium and long-term strategy of entering into new end markets for LFP batteries and our success depends, in part, on our ability to successfully develop and manufacture new products for, and acquire customers in, these new markets and successfully grow our operations and production capabilities (including, in time, our ability to manufacture solid state cells in-house).
- We currently rely on two suppliers to provide our LFP cells and a single supplier for the manufacture of our battery management system. Any disruption in the operations of these key suppliers could adversely affect our business and results of operations.
- We may not be able to accurately estimate future demand for our LFP batteries, and our failure to accurately predict our production requirements could result in additional costs or delays.
- We are currently, and will likely continue to be, dependent on a single manufacturing facility. If our facility becomes inoperable for any reason, or our automation and expansion plans do not yield the desired effects, our ability to produce our products could be negatively impacted.
- Lithium-ion battery cells have been observed to catch fire or release smoke and flame, which may have a negative impact on our reputation and business.
- We may be subject to product liability claims, which could harm our financial condition and liquidity if we are not able to successfully defend or insure against such claims.
- We currently rely on software and hardware that is highly complex and technical, and we expect that our reliance will increase in the future with the introduction of future products. If we are unable to manage the risks inherent in these complex technologies, or if we are unable to address or mitigate technical limitations in our systems, our business could be adversely affected.

CONFIDENTIAL

Risks Related to Dragonfly's Solid State Technology Development

- We face significant engineering challenges in our attempts to develop and manufacture solid state battery cells and these efforts may be delayed or fail which could negatively impact our business.
- We expect to make significant investments in our continued research and development of solid state battery technology development, and we may be unable to adequately control the costs associated with manufacturing our solid state battery cells.
- If our solid state batteries fail to perform as expected, our ability to further develop, market, and sell our solid state batteries could be harmed.
- We expect to rely on machinery used in other large-scale commercial applications, modified to incorporate our proprietary technologies and processes, in order to mass produce solid state battery cells, which exposes us to a significant degree of risk and uncertainty in terms of scaling production, operational performance and costs.

Risks Related to Intellectual Property

- We rely heavily upon our intellectual property portfolio. If we are unable to protect our intellectual property rights, our business and competitive position would be harmed.
- We may need to defend ourselves against intellectual property infringement claims, which may be time-consuming and could cause us to incur substantial costs.
- Our current and future patent applications may not result in issued patents or our patent rights may be contested, circumvented, invalidated or limited in scope, any of which could have a material adverse effect on our ability to prevent others from commercially exploiting products similar to ours.

General Risk Factors

- The uncertainty in global economic conditions, including as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic and the Russia-Ukraine conflict, could negatively affect our results of operations.
- Currency fluctuations, trade barriers, tariffs or shortages and other general economic or political conditions may limit our ability to obtain key components for our battery packs or significantly increase freight charges, raw material costs and other expenses associated with our business, which could further materially and adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.
- The loss of one or more members of our senior management team, other key personnel or our failure to attract additional qualified personnel may adversely affect our business and our ability to achieve our anticipated level of growth.
- Our operating and financial results forecast relies in large part upon assumptions and analyses developed by us. If these assumptions or analyses prove to be incorrect, our actual operating results may be materially different from our forecasted results.
- Our website, systems, and the data we maintain may be subject to intentional disruption, security incidents, or alleged violations of laws, regulations, or other obligations relating to data handling that could result in liability and adversely impact our reputation and future sales.
- If we fail to manage our growth effectively, we may be unable to execute our business plan, maintain high levels of customer service, or adequately address competitive challenges.
- We may expand our business through acquisitions in the future, and any future acquisition may not be accretive and may negatively affect our business.
- Our operations are subject to a variety of environmental, health and safety rules that can bring scrutiny from regulatory agencies and increase our costs.
- We are subject to anti-corruption, anti-bribery, anti-money laundering, financial and economic sanctions and similar laws, and non-compliance with such laws can subject us to administrative, civil and criminal fines and penalties, collateral consequences, remedial measures and legal expenses, all of which could adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and reputation.
- From time to time, we may be involved in legal proceedings and commercial or contractual disputes, which could have an adverse impact on our profitability and consolidated financial position.

Risk Considerations (3/5)

Risks Related to Dragonfly's Financial Position and Capital Requirements

- Our business is capital intensive, and we may not be able to raise additional capital on attractive terms, if at all. Any further indebtedness we incur, including pursuant to the commitment letter with Energy Impact Credit Fund I LP, may limit our operational flexibility in the future.
- Restrictions imposed by our outstanding indebtedness and any future indebtedness, including pursuant to the commitment letter with Energy Impact Credit Fund I LP, may limit our ability to operate our business and to finance our future operations or capital needs or to engage in acquisitions or other business activities necessary to achieve growth.

Risks Related to Ownership of CNTQ Securities and the Business Combination

- The Sponsor, certain members of the CNTQ Board and certain CNTQ officers have interests in the Business Combination that are different from or are in addition to the CNTQ stockholders in recommending that stockholders vote in favor of approval of the Business Combination Proposal and approval of the other transaction proposals.
- The Sponsor may have interests in the Business Combination different from the interests of CNTQ's public stockholders.
- The Sponsor, CNTQ's directors and affiliates of CNTQ's management team may receive a positive return on the 3,162,500 Founder Shares and 4,627,858 private placement warrants even if CNTQ's public stockholders experience a negative return on their investment after consummation of the Business Combination.
- The Nasdaq may not continue to list our securities, which could limit investors' ability to make transactions in our securities and subject us to additional trading restrictions.
- Future resales of our outstanding securities, including the registration of securities for resale under the Registration Rights Agreement, may cause the market price of our securities to drop significantly, even if our business is doing well.
- The Sponsor is liable to ensure that proceeds of the trust are not reduced by vendor claims in the event an initial business combination is not consummated. It has also agreed to pay for any liquidation expenses if an initial business combination is not consummated. Such liability may have influenced the Sponsor's decision to approve the Business Combination.
- The exercise of CNTQ's directors' and officers' discretion in agreeing to changes or waivers in the terms of the Business Combination may result in a conflict of interest when determining whether such changes to the terms of the Business Combination or waivers of conditions are appropriate and in CNTQ's stockholders' best interest.
- If CNTQ is unable to complete the Business Combination or another initial business combination by August 13, 2022 (unless this deadline is extended pursuant to CNTQ's covenant to extend such deadline under the Merger Agreement and pursuant to the CNTQ organizational documents), CNTQ will cease all operations except for the purpose of winding up, redeeming 100% of the outstanding public shares and, subject to the approval of its remaining stockholders and the CNTQ Board, dissolving and liquidating. In such event, third parties may bring claims against CNTQ and, as a result, the proceeds held in the trust account could be reduced and the per-share liquidation price received by stockholders could be less than $10.00 per share.
- CNTQ's stockholders may be held liable for claims by third parties against CNTQ to the extent of distributions received by them.
- We may not have sufficient funds to satisfy indemnification claims of our directors and officers.
- CNTQ's stockholders will experience immediate dilution as a consequence of, among other transactions, the issuance of CNTQ common stock as consideration in the Business Combination, the PIPE Investment and the debt and equity line facilities. Having a minority share position may reduce the influence that CNTQ's current stockholders have on the management of CNTQ.
- The Sponsor and the PIPE Investor will beneficially own a significant equity interest in CNTQ and may take actions that conflict with the interests of other CNTQ stakeholders.

CONFIL

Risk Considerations (4/5)

Risks Related to Ownership of CNTQ Securities and the Business Combination (Cont'd)

- Our Sponsor, directors or officers or their affiliates may elect to purchase shares from public stockholders, which could reduce the number of shares that may be redeemed in connection with the Business Combination and reduce the public "float" of CNTQ common stock.
- The unaudited pro forma financial information included elsewhere in this presentation may not be indicative of what New Dragonfly's actual financial position or results of operations would have been.
- CNTQ and Dragonfly have incurred and expect to incur significant costs associated with the Business Combination. Whether or not the Business Combination is completed, the incurrence of these costs will reduce the amount of cash available to be used for other corporate purposes by CNTQ if the Business Combination is not completed.
- A provision in CNTQ's Warrant Agreement may make it more difficult for CNTQ to consummate the Business Combination.
- Our ability to successfully effect the Business Combination and to be successful thereafter will be dependent upon the efforts of certain key personnel, including the key personnel of Dragonfly whom we expect to stay with the post-combination business following the Business Combination. The loss of key personnel could negatively impact the operations and profitability of our post-combination business and its financial condition could suffer as a result.
- CNTQ and Dragonfly will be subject to business uncertainties and contractual restrictions while the Business Combination is pending.
- The ability of CNTQ's public stockholders to exercise redemption rights with respect to a large number of shares of CNTQ's Class A common stock could reduce the amount of working capital available to New Dragonfly upon the closing of the Transaction and could adversely affect the completion of the Transaction.
- Recently, there have been changes to the accepted accounting for special purpose acquisition companies ("SPACs"). Changes in the accepted accounting related to SPACs may result in the recognition of accounting errors in previously issued financial statements, restatements of previously issued financial statements, the filing of notices that previously issued financial statements may not be relied upon, notices from stock exchanges that CNTQ or New Dragonfly is not in compliance with continued listing standards and findings of material weaknesses and significant deficiencies in internal controls over financial reporting. In addition, such changes could delay or have a material adverse effect on CNTQ's and Dragonfly's ability to consummate the Transaction.

CONFIL

Risk Considerations (5/5)

Risks Related to Ownership of New Dragonfly's Common Stock

- If securities or industry analysts do not publish research or reports about New Dragonfly, or publish negative reports, New Dragonfly's stock price and trading volume could decline.
- If the Business Combination's benefits do not meet the expectations of investors, stockholders or financial analysts, the market price of New Dragonfly's securities may decline. Additionally, trading prices for New Dragonfly's securities could be highly volatile, and purchases of New Dragonfly securities could incur substantial losses.
- An active trading market for New Dragonfly's securities may not be available on a consistent basis to provide stockholders with adequate liquidity.
- Warrants will become exercisable for New Dragonfly's common stock, which would increase the number of shares eligible for future resale in the public market and result in dilution to New Dragonfly's stockholders.
- New Dragonfly's operating results may fluctuate significantly following the Business Combination, which makes its future operating results difficult to predict and could cause its operating results to fall below expectations or any guidance it may provide.
- Changes in laws, regulation or rules, or a failure to comply with any laws, regulations or rules, may adversely affect New Dragonfly's business, investments and results of operations.
- New Dragonfly does not intend to pay dividends on its common stock and, consequently, your ability to achieve a return on your investment will depend on appreciation in the price of New Dragonfly's common stock.

Risks Related to the Financings

- Securities issued in the private placement will be restricted securities and will not be registered upon issuance and therefore will be subject to securities law restrictions on transferability until such time as the resale of such securities is registered or an exemption from registration is available.
- The availability of the term loan and the equity facility are subject to the negotiation and execution of definitive documentation.
